Making a Difference

Our business students want to make a difference. Whether they assume leadership roles or work behind the scenes, our approach ensures that they're prepared with technical skills required for solving complex business problems, as well as the ability to think critically about their role in being a positive influence in the workplace.

Quality

Milligan is a member of the Association of Collegiate Business Schools and Programs (ACBSP) and is accredited by the Commission on Colleges of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools (1866 Southern Lane, Decatur, Georgia 30033-4097; 404-679-4501).

Curriculum

Students integrate a general business core with courses in their focused area so they understand the big picture and are prepared for short and long-term decision making in the business world. With deeper study in their area, they can solve complex business problems, even under conditions of uncertainty. They're also good communicators and understand computer technology and mathematics. Courses in leadership and management skills prepare students for planning, implementation, and control of the business enterprise, all rooted in a foundation of ethical and moral principles. See www.milligan.edu/academics for full curriculum.

Internships

Hands-on learning experiences are important and internships are strongly encouraged and/or required. Faculty help place students in internships, which have ranged from local businesses to national corporations, government appointments, and international agencies.

"All of our business programs at Milligan are designed to develop managers and leaders for the new millennium. We teach the latest theories and challenge our students with real-world applications, all taught from a decidedly Christian perspective with an emphasis on ethics and integrity."

— Dr. John Keyt
Business & Marketing Professor
